THE week just closed has had its share of enjoyments, but the real season does not seem to be on as yet. No doubt this is partly due to the fact that many of the leading people are as yet absent from the city, and others are still in the throes of house-cleaning. The iuncheon given at the Commercial club Thursday in honor of Mrs. Haldwin and Mrss Bessie Glendinning, at which the Misses Noble were the hostesses, and Mrs. Elmer Jones' luncheon yesterday were the two big events outside of the assembly. Some dinners, at which only a few were entertained, preceded the assembly, and the coaching party by Miss Creary Friday evening was still another delightful affair. A number of things are planned for the coming week, but nothing of special significance, As yet there is little doing in the matrimonial line, although two marriages which will interest a great many people are to be consummated, That of Mrs. Herriman and Mr. A. C. Smith takes place Wednesday evening.

One of the most beautifully arranged affairs of the week and one, too, most unique in the way of feminine entertainments was the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Elmer B. Jones in honor of Mrs. Charles G. Plummer, president of the Reviewers' club. The guests were seated at small tables done entirely in spring flowers, and the rooms were beautifully decorated with flowering branches of peach trees. Each table showed a distinctive decoration, one being in violets, another in tilles of the valley, another in daffodils and still another in spirea. Each centerplece was aivided into four parts and these were tied for distribution among the guests at the end of the luncheon. But the unique part was in the toasts which were given during the courses. The first was "Our President," and was responded to in.a most delightful vein by Mrs. W. R. Wightman, one of the charter members of the club. The lext toast was given by Mrs. Plummer, "To One." Mrs. C. E. Richards toasted "The Books We've Reviewed," and Mrs. W. F. Adams responded to "Our New Members." Altogether it was a most successful juncheon and one which was a delight to every sense.

The chief event of the past week was the fourth assembly which took place. Thursday evening. It was by far the most enjoyable of the series, and although the attendance was rather scant, every one seemed to be in the best of dancing moods. The decorations were all in yellow, jonquils forming the main floral decoration for the table in the supper room. Many of the familiar faces were absent, but two new girls were there, Miss Bessie Glendinning and Mrs. J. O. Reber, and, for a wonder, there seemed to be plenty of dancing men.

The marriage of Miss Bertha Carter and Mr. Thomas Gouldstone Griffin will take place Wednesday morning at 11:30 at St. Mark's cathedral. No cards have been issued, but all the friends of the young couple will be welcome. Mr. H. O. Jackson will be the best man and Mr. D. Macpherson Boyd will play the wedding march. They will leave immediately after the ceremony for the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weir arrived in the city Friday at noon after an ab-sence of some three months abroad. Judge and Mrs. James A. Miner have returned from an eastern trip. Mrs. John Cain has gone east for a visit of some time with relatives and friends.
